GRAYLING, MICHIGAN, THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1936

Seniors Present "Look Who's Here"

"Look Who's Here," the program said, "A farce in three acts." The program didn't lie.

The Senior Play, presented last Thursday night to an appreciative audience, was a play full of hilarious moments, smart lines, and good acting. The class of '36 made its footling bow with the annual Senior play and nine almost graduates did themselves proud with this presentation of this clever play by Charles George. Such successful presentations require a lot of preparation and the seniors and director Cecil Roberts deserve the credit coming for this play.

Complications are apt to be numerous and involved in dramas of this type. This was a bit more complicated and involved than the average. Lyman Winchell, dependent upon an eccentric aunt who hated marriage, had committed the unforgivable sin of matrimony. Into this scene of domesticated rowing over bills comes the aunt, and the girl Winchell nearly married, plus the fellow that his wife nearly married. A deception of the aunt is set up, which finally crashes to the echo of the audience's delight. All comes out OK.

Ransom Murphy was the harassed husband. He played 'em with an eyebrow. Yvonne Kraus was his wife Estelle, a part very nicely played. Upon this part depended the weight of convincing winning over the eccentric aunt. Lars Rasmussen was Estelle's ex-boy friend, and he carried this part with conviction. His fiancée was Gertrude Streeter, who was charming and also packed a wallop. Blanche Wheeler played the part of the matrimonially disinclined aunt, and she carried a difficult role to perfection. Rose Newell and Virginia Feldhauser took essential parts as friends of Estelle, the latter once interested in Winchell, and Dorothy Schweitzer did a neat bit of work "as the maid who came back," and how. George Hanson delivered the goods and the groceries all at once. It was a well rounded cast and their entire performance was a credit to them.

Miss McNeven's orchestra played, and were sincerely enjoyed. The harmonica band also put on one of their much-appreciated performances.

TOWNSEND CLUB PICNIC

The members of the local Townsend club will have a basket picnic at Grayling Tourist park (the Connine grove) on Sunday, May 24th at 2:00 o'clock p. m. to which everyone is invited to come. Bring your family and have a good time. A special speaker will be present to give a talk and explain the progress that the Townsend plan is making. You and your family will be very welcome. Committee.

BAKERY CHANGES HANDS

A business change last week saw our local bakery sold by Peter Lovely to Mr. Charles V. Melichar of Traverse City. Mr. Lovely purchased the business from A. R. Craig rather than to see the place become closed. Since that time it was operated by his nephew Floyd Lovely, and got along very nicely. But it was Mr. Lovely's desire that the business soon be taken over by a baker of extensive experience and ability.

Mr. Melichar has operated a bakery in Traverse City for 27 years, starting in to learn the business, while a small boy in school. With exception of a number of years that he served his country in Uncle Sam's regular army, he has been in the baking business. And while in the army he served in the baking department.

"The test of the pudding," a common expression, "is in the eating." Have you tried the baked goods that Mr. Melichar is turning out? If not, don't delay doing so for you are going to be happily pleased. Their breads, cakes, cookies, friedcakes, pies and other articles really are excellent. Don't take our word for it, try them yourselves.

The Melichar family are going to make their home here and have a part in our community affairs. They are most welcome and we trust they will find Grayling a good place to live. Just as long as this young man is turning out such excellent baked goods, why not ask for Grayling bread and baked goods?

ENJOY TRIP TO KANSAS CITY

Dr. and Mrs. C. R. Keyport are quite enthusiastic over the fine time they had at the American Medical Association meeting held in Kansas City last week.

Dr. Keyport was one of five members of the Michigan Medical society to be officially delegated to the convention. Besides having the privilege of attending a number of instructive clinics and hearing addresses by some of America's greatest surgeons, physicians and scientists, they formed a lot of new friendships and in general had a very pleasurable time.

At a banquet provided by the physicians of Kansas City, Doctor was assigned to a table with Rear Admiral P. S. Rossiter, surgeon general of the United States navy and Capt. Griffith E. Thomas, chief of the Admiralty staff.

Among the speakers heard during the week was Alfred M. Landon, governor of Kansas and a candidate for the presidency in the Republican party, and it was generally felt that the Governor made a lot of good friends among the thousands of physicians who were present.

The Keyports arrived home Sunday night.

First Half McNitt Fund Authorized

Payment of $2,000,000 to the counties as the first half of the 1936 McNitt refund has been authorized by State Highway Commissioner Murray D. VanWagoner. The voucher was turned over to the auditor general and checks will be mailed to the counties immediately.

Although the law does not require full payment before July 1, Commissioner VanWagoner decided to release half of the funds at this time to afford relief to counties which are hard pressed financially. Several counties had requested advance payment.

The money will be used by county road commissions for maintenance and construction on former township roads which have become a part of the county system under the McNitt Act.

The township road system of Michigan which totaled some 62,200 miles passed out of existence on April 1, when the last of the roads were taken into the county systems. The McNitt township road law passed in 1931 provided that the counties take over the township road mileages at the rate of 20 per cent a year. A first-year appropriation of $2,000,000 was allocated to the counties to help them shoulder the burden. This amount was increased by $500,000 annually until the present yearly appropriation is $4,000,000. The same amount will be paid each year hereafter.

Crawford county's portion amounts to $19,660.62. Roscommon's amounts to $9,443.66 and Otsego's to $21,687.93.

J-Hop To Be A Gala Affair

Tomorrow, Friday, evening, gala couples will be dancing amid unusual, colorful decorations to the smooth swinging music of Wextaff's Wolverines from Charlevoix's most exclusive summer resort hotel.

The public is cordially invited to attend this outstanding social event of the year.

HONORED WITH FAREWELL PARTIES

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Pankow left Grayling Monday morning on the first lap of their trip to California where they plan to make their home at San Francisco.

Their friends honored them with a series of farewell parties; among which was a firemen's party, Wednesday evening of last week, at the home of Middle LaMotte. Pinocchio and Bunco were enjoyed during the evening and a nice lunch was served. Mr. Pankow, who was assistant chief on the department, was presented with a fine signet ring with "Grayling F. D." engraved across the face.

Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. N. VanNatter were hosts to some thirty friends at another farewell party. Bunco and pinocchio were in play during the evening, and a delicious lunch was served. Prizes for bunco were won by Mrs. Carrie Feldhauser and Mrs. Earl Broadbent. Archie Brown won the prize for pinocchio. As a token of their esteem, the ladies presented Mrs. Pankow with a lovely gift.

As a final celebration, a number of their very close friends drove to the Lyric Dance hall, at Higgins Lake, Saturday evening and spent the evening dancing.

During the first two weeks Mr. and Mrs. Pankow will be visiting relatives in Michigan and Illinois, after which they will drive directly to San Francisco.

While they have made their home here in Grayling they have been fine neighbors and loyal friends; Grayling will miss them. We hope they will be back!

CHRIS OLSEN OPENS NEW STORE

Since Chris Olsen's drug store burned last February, Mr. Olsen has been out of business but he opened a new place last Saturday. This is located in the building belonging to H. Petersen that was once occupied by the A. & P. store, two doors east of the post-office.

For several weeks past workmen have been busy putting the place in order. The interior is newly decorated; new battleship linoleum covers the entire floor; there are new wall and floor show cases; a fine soda fountain, new tables and booths go with the fountain service, and everything is slick, clean and inviting. Conrad Sorenson and Claude Cardinal did a nice job of redecorating.

Chris says he is stocking just about what every good drug store should carry except drugs and prescriptions. A new stock of patent remedies, toilet requisites, stationery, candies and hundreds of other articles are nicely displayed. Appetizing fountain lunches also will soon be served there.

Miss Nadine McNeven and Don Gothro are the regular clerks. Chris says he hopes that all his old customers will be back, and also a lot of new ones. He doesn't say that we may have the first drink free, but he is for us to discourage such a thing. Anyway we're glad to see Chris back in business. Good luck, Mayor.

INSTALLS NEW AUTO LIFT

Jesse Schoonover is bragging about their new "Weaver Twin Post Lift." That's a gadget for raising cars off the floor for convenience in greasing and repairing.

There are many kinds of "lifts" in use but the Weaver, he says, is different. With that the car is driven upon the lift and the rear wheels settle into a slight depression in the floor, directly over the rear hoist. The front hoist then is moved either way so that it comes up directly under the front axle. Notched U shape castings fit perfectly around the rear housing bringing the under parts of the car plain to view. By opening a valve the car rises slowly to the desired height. The car may be raised on a level or, if desired, one end may be higher or lower than the other, giving the service man clear access to the under part of the car.

Invitation is out to everyone to come in and see it work. See illustrated advertisement in this issue of the Avalanche, showing the lift in use.

Musical Program Greatly Enjoyed

Grayling Choir and Walter Noa Create Schubert Symphony in All Its Beauty

(From Gaylord Herald-Times)

The music lovers of Gaylord enjoyed a wonderful musical treat Monday night at the Methodist church, when the Grayling choir, led by Mrs. Clippert came up to present its Schubert program to the local people. Walter Noa assisted throughout with his violin.

Listening to those who heard the recital, one appreciates the fact that words are but feeble instruments to express the soul-stirring strains and words of music, when correctly interpreted by talented musicians, so suffice it to say that the general opinion is that it was the finest rendition of music ever heard in Gaylord.

The choir rendered ten selections, two numbers by the ladies duet, one by the choir complete, in Ave Maria, and the other numbers in parts.

Walter Noa played his violin in all numbers, the balancing beauty of the violin adding just the right touch to create a symphony.

There were twelve members of the Grayling choir that made the trip, sponsored by the Women's Club, and those who attended, nearly a full house, are very grateful to both the local women and the Grayling people.

The program as rendered included the following numbers:

March Militaire—by Mrs. Clippert and Walter Noa.

Hark! Hark! the Lark—by Ladies quartette.

Ballet Suite—incidental music to the play, Rosamund, by Mrs. Clippert and Walter Noa.

Who is Sylvia?—vocal solo by Edward Brigham.

Blossom Time—an operetta based on the life of the great composer, the Love Song of which is taken from the Unfinished Symphony, a duet by Mrs. Milnes and Edward Brigham, accompanied by Mrs. Clippert and Walter Noa.

The Night—by Ladies' quartette.

Moments Musicales—by Mrs. Clippert and Walter Noa.

Serenade—most popular of all Schubert compositions, a duet by Mrs. R. Milnes and Howard Schmidt.

Unfinished Symphony—violin obligato, by Mrs. Clippert and Walter Noa.

Ave Maria—by Walter Noa, Mrs. Clippert and the Grayling choir.

Mrs. Clippert accompanied all the numbers.

Rev. Edgar Flory of Grayling was the announcer of the evening, introducing the musicians and numbers, and this added much to the understanding and beauty of the occasion.

Mrs. A. Joseph, chairman of the program committee in the Grayling Woman's Club was responsible for the creating of this program. The Grayling Study Club invited this group here, as the last social affair of its club year.

The Grayling Study Club entertained its husbands and the Grayling musicians at dinner, preceding the program, in the M. E. church dining room, served by the M. E. Ladies Aid.

MEET THEM WITH A SMILE

Saturday the women of Grayling Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary will be on the streets with baskets of memorial poppies to be worn in honor of the World War dead. They will work throughout the day, distributing the little red flowers and gathering contributions for the welfare of the disabled war veterans and the families left in need by the death or disability of a veteran. Their unselfish efforts will give every individual in the city an opportunity to pay personal tribute to the men who gave their lives for the country, and to extend a helping hand to those who sacrificed health, strength and happiness on the altar of patriotism.

When we meet these women on the streets Saturday, let us all show understanding of the work they are doing. Let us meet them with a smile of appreciation and put on our poppies, glad for the opportunity they are bringing us to honor the nation's heroic dead and aid those still within reach of our help.

The Law of Good Business says: "Business goes where it is invited, and stays and comes back to the place where it is well treated and served best." You can't expect people to do business with you if you don't ask them to, which is just another way of saying: "You can't sell 'em if you don't tell 'em."

Legion Jottings

Thursday evening we had a large attendance at practice and the ranks were nearly all filled. It sure is a pleasure to see the boys all taking an interest in the Drum & Bugle Corps again.

Tuesday evening our 10th District Committeeman, Alfred Hanson, Comrades Oral Levan, Alvin LaChapelle and Wilfred Laurant went to Prudenville to attend the 10th District Junior baseball meeting held there. Plans were made and an American Legion Junior Baseball League formed with committees appointed. Boys from 14 to 17 years of age will have a chance to become good ball players with a little effort on their part.

Plans are being made for Memorial Day services Saturday, May 30th. All ex-service men are requested to turn out with the American Legion at their hall on this date. The exact time will be given next week in this column. Set aside all other things and come out in observance of this day and show respect to your departed comrades.

HIGH SCHOOL BASEBALL

Two setbacks and one win were in order for Coach Cornell's men in the three games they played past week Friday afternoon the Mancelona nine was turned back by the Northern Lights, 6-3. Coach Maki's Gaylord squad slapped out a 21-6 victory Monday despite efforts of three Grayling hurlers to stop their hitting attack and in the final home game of the season Kalkaska pounded the offerings of B. Hanson and Tibbets for a 16-8 win.

In the Friday game the Grayling nine evened the count with Mancelona at one-all as they won a thriller in the seventh inning. Mancelona had beaten the home-esters previously in the season by one point and they were sure they had this game sewed up when they were leading 5-4 in the sixth. But Bob Hanson came out of the dugout with a double up his sleeve. He immediately lined it cleanly over the center fielder's head, scoring a man from second and tying the score at 5-5. Later on a single, Hanson slid into home plate, spikes flying, with the winning run.

Chalker started on the mound for the locals in the Gaylord fracas but was relieved by Hanson in the first frame after having allowed five runs to cross the plate. Hanson held the Maki coached team down until the fifth and sixth innings when he went in the air, giving the visitors run after run. Tibbets finished the game in fine style, holding the Top O' Michigan squad scoreless, the final score being 21-6. Errors in the field accounted for quite a few runs.

Kalkaska took revenge for their defeat earlier in the season at the hands of the Northern Lights by defeating them Tuesday afternoon 16-8. Hanson started the game but again Tibbets took over the pitching duties as Kalkaska hit the ball all over the lot.

One game remains in the schedule and that is with Gaylord, at Gaylord Friday afternoon.

OIL WELL SPUDDED IN

With machinery and other equipment all set up, the new oil well being put down on the NW 1/4 of SW 1/4 of Section 7, town 25-1, South Branch township, by the Caldwell Co. of Mt. Pleasant, went into active operation yesterday when the well was spudded in. Drilling starts with a 14-inch casing which will be carried through to bed rock and then reduced as drilling necessitates. The company contemplates completion of the well by June 15th. The well is on the Lincoln properties, formerly known as the South Branch Ranch, about 14 miles south and west of the Cliff Durant summer home on the AuSable river. This company, affiliated with the Roosevelt Oil Co., has been successful operators in the West Branch, Mt. Pleasant and other Michigan oil fields.—Roscommon Herald-News.

ONE WAY to help Grayling is to provide a number of comfortable, modern homes for sale and for rent to those who would like to have homes here. It wouldn't take a lot of capital to start the organization of a local building and loan association, for the mutual benefit of investors and patrons. The type of homes mentioned above would be quick to rent and good property to own by those who wish to live here. Such organizations are not formed for the purpose of investors or money, but there is always assurance of good steady interest returns and safe risks. While many financial institutions folded up for one reason and another during the past several years, we haven't heard of a single building and loan association closing its doors. That should interest investors, then the principle of doing something for Grayling is the great goal we should work for. Let someone start something!

The discovery of a dead deer, hanging from a tree is reported by Roman Lietz. A few days ago he was at Lake Margrethe and while he decided to find out if his fishing shanty was still where he expected it to be. Not far from that place he discovered a deer hanging by one foot from the crotch of a small tree. It was quite evident that the deer, in its attempt to get food was reaching high up into the tree to browse, caught a foot into a crotch of the tree and was unable to get it loose. Starvation no doubt ended its life. In its effort to get food it appears that the animal had extended itself to the utmost and was caught.

A very nice compliment was paid the National Log Construction Co.'s Air-Lock logs when the American Builder published a double page illustrated, detailed description of their product in the May issue. The pages show two structures, one a fine residence located at North Lake, Mich., another a small cabin, groups of etchings showing specifications, and a fireplace set into an Air-Lock Log wall. Text matter tells of the organization of the firm and of its objective, and a resume of the possibilities in using this type of construction materials. The privilege to publish this information was requested by the publishers of the American Builder and presented its readers, again proving the success that these products have achieved in less than four years.

Will Open South Side School in Sept.

What will be good news and will meet with the hearty approval of the public in general, we believe is the fact that the Board of Education has definitely decided to re-open the South Side school in September. Also that manual training is to be added to the school curriculum next year.

For the South Side there will be two teachers, and the kindergarten, first, second and third grades will be taught.

Grayling school is losing two teachers at the end of this term, Miss Shirley McNeven and Miss Marie Cook, the latter who will teach at her home in Alpena.

This is remarkable and goes to show that school matters are moving very smoothly, that the teachers are happy and contented, and like Grayling.

The board is in the process of selecting a teacher for the manual training course and teachers to fill the two vacancies.

Washington Notes And Comments

Administration Forces Defeat
Farm Mortgage Bill

By
Congressman Roy O. Woodruff
Tenth Michigan District.

The much-discussed and exceedingly controversial Frazier-Lemke Farm Mortgage Refinance bill is now beyond further legislative action during this Congress. On Monday, May 11, having previously secured signatures of 218 House members to discharge the Rules Committee from further consideration of the bill, Mr. Lemke moved the previous question on the motion to discharge. This was carried by a vote of 220 to 153.

This action brought the measure before the House for consideration under the general rules. There were six hours of general debate. The Democratic leadership has for months been doing everything in its power to prevent its consideration. As a final desperate attempt to defeat the bill Speaker Burns took the floor, voiced his opposition and read to the House a letter from William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, who also registered his opposition to the bill.

It is not often that the Speaker takes part in the debates on the floor. It is only on occasions when it is deemed necessary to the success of the Administration's program that he does so. It has been known for weeks that the President has opposed this legislation, and the Speaker's action can be considered confirmation of this fact.

Further confirmation of opposition on the part of the Administration is seen in the fact that every Tammany member of the House of Representatives was present and voting "No." The significance of this will be realized when it is known that many of these Tammany members are rarely seen on the floor of the House. They spend most of their time in New York, apparently only coming to Washington when they are ordered to do so by the Tammany Chiefs. I assume Postmaster General Farley saw to it that they were all present on this occasion.

A number of perfecting amendments were offered by the friends of the bill and adopted. One such amendment, however, which provided gold backing for any currency issued under the provisions of the bill, was defeated by the concentrate efforts of the opposition.

The measure was beaten on final vote by 235 to 142. I voted for it. There is no way under the rules of the House in which it can again come up for consideration during the remainder of this Congress.

For more than a week before final consideration E. A. Rohlf, President of the Michigan Farm Union, as well as other representatives of the organization, were in Washington giving assistance to the House proponents of the bill.

The vote on the final consideration of the measure was significant. It indicated clearly that the opposition, had it wished to do so, could have amended the bill in any way it desired in order to meet its views, or it could have passed an entirely different bill if it had been willing to extend additional relief to the distressed farmers along the lines of refinancing their indebtedness. Their majority was 93 votes. They had the votes. Why didn't they do it?

HUDSON IS PREPARED FOR VISITORS

When anyone visits Detroit, he usually wants to know how automobiles are made. He has heard all sorts of stories about the marvelous processes of speed and precision, and naturally he wants to see for himself.

Recognizing the interest of the visitors, the Hudson Motor Car Company maintains a special course for its guides so that they may be continually up to date on the latest improvements that are constantly being made and thus be able to give the visitors an accurate and interesting picture of what they see on a tour of inspection.

With an average of more than twelve million persons visiting Detroit annually, with some 500 conventions being conducted in the city during 1936, drawing an attendance of half a million, a large number of these visitors find their way eventually to the motor car plants and a large proportion of them go to the Hudson plant.

Speaking of Hudson's painstaking care to make a trip through its factory not only interesting, but instructive, W. R. Tracy, vice president in charge of sales, said: "The average American has in his mind a general idea of how cars are made. He visions them coming down the line, getting a tank of gas, and then being driven away to the four corners of the world. But he has very little comprehension of the processes that are employed or of what is actually done. With the idea of letting every visitor to the Hudson plant know exactly what is going on, we arranged a special course for factory guides so that they may have up to the minute knowledge of every process of manufacture, of materials and of just what every operation means.

"There is much to see in a trip through the factory. There are the latest types of static and dynamic balancing machines, set on concrete foundations 10 feet deep, three feet wide and eight feet long and separated from the building floor by a thick wall of cork so that no vibrations from nearby machinery may reach them. On these machines are balanced the crankshafts that make Hudson-built motors so powerful and yet so quiet.

"Then there are the big multi-matic lathes that do eight different operations on flywheels at one time. On these machines there are eight stations, with a flywheel at each station. At the conclusion of each operation, the flywheels move around automatically to the next station, where the next operation is performed. This machine has a capacity of 60 flywheels per hour.

"The chassis assembly line is interesting, showing the cars gradually growing as they move along, until at last they emerge a complete automobile, all ready to drive off.

"Particularly interesting is the body plant, with its gigantic presses. The granddaddy of all these is a gigantic tandem four-point single action press which draws out of one piece of metal the seamless steel roof for 1936 Hudsons and Terraplanes. This press weighs half a million pounds, rears up 35 feet in the air, and weighs a die that weighs 73 tons. A 900 ton pressure is exerted by this press, yet the die may be set so delicately as to barely crack an egg.

"These and many other interesting operations are shown to visitors through the plant, so that when they have completed their visit, they have a comprehensive knowledge of how a car is produced."

PROTECTED GAME OVER-RUNS PRIVATE PROPERTY

Recognizing the fact that protected wild game sometimes over-runs private property with damaging results, the State Conservation commission at its May meeting set up a plan whereby property owners can obtain some relief.

The Director of Conservation may issue a permit authorizing the shooting or trapping of birds and animals as a means of preventing or controlling their depredations.

This permit will be issued after due consideration and investigation of the request for relief. The regulations set up by the Commission follow:

1. All reports of damage shall be referred to the Field Administration Division.

2. The Conservation officer shall inspect and determine the legitimacy of the damage prior to the issuing of the permit.

3. All animals or birds taken under permit shall be turned over to the Department of Conservation for disposal.

The law does not provide for reimbursement for damages caused by protected wild game in Michigan, and the Commission felt that some means of relief is warranted in view of the increasing number of complaints of damages.

HEAVY SNOW STORMS TOOK TOLL

The heavy snow storms of last winter took their toll in human suffering as well as in increased maintenance expense, it was revealed today in a report on injuries to state highway department employees during February of this year.

The report, submitted to State Highway Commissioner Murray D. VanWagoner by the land and legal division, indicated an increase in injuries to maintenance employees of more than 200 per cent during February of this year as compared to the same period of 1935. Most of this increase is directly due to the unusually severe weather conditions of the last winter, the report showed.

There were 37 injuries reported for maintenance employees during February 1936 and 11 for the same period of 1935. All reported injuries were suffered while on duty.

"This is perhaps stronger evidence of the tremendous battle that faced maintenance crews in keeping roads open during the howling blizzards of last winter than the additional expense involved," Commissioner VanWagoner said.

"The large number of injuries attributed to 'over exposure,' 'unusual weather conditions,' and 'breaking snow blockades' reveals the fine spirit of the men who sometimes spent as high as 36 hours in their trucks and plows when the storms were at their height."

A considerable number of the injuries were suffered in assisting stranded motorists to reach shelter.

ROOT HOG OR DIE IS HIS CREDO

If the government doesn't stop handing out money to everybody who yells for it, we are going to be a nation of "sissies," says a small-town North Carolina storekeeper. "If this system goes on a few more years there won't be a self-respecting citizen left," he writes. "Down here the only work a lot of people do is hold out their hands. Another thing: All the broken down aristocracy of this state, ex-congressmen, ex-governors, sheriffs, postmasters, bank cashiers who lost their jobs, and even the precinct workers and ballot box stuffers are all taken care of on some kind of welfare job.

"Let them root, hog or die. That's what I've done for fifty years."—Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat and Chronicle.

SAFE MILK AND WATER SUPPLIES

(By E. J. Frair, Sanitary Ins.)

Some time ago the dean of the medical school at one of the large state universities remarked that next to preventing the spread of communicable disease from person to person, the most important factors in disease prevention work are safe milk and safe water supplies. Every person uses one or both of these products and inasmuch as many epidemics have been directly traced in this and other states to impure milk and polluted water supplies, the desirability of using a clean and safe milk and drinking water from approved sources is obvious to any thoughtful person.

Probably one of the first thoughts that occur to you is this—just what does the District Health Department do to safeguard and improve the various local milk supplies? That is a very good question and briefly here is the answer:

Every milk dealer's place of business is inspected frequently. If the dealer buys milk from a farm other than his own, an inspection is also made there. At the farm the inspection starts with the cows. They should of course, be healthy, the udder must be normal and the animal be kept free from dirt. The stable is required to have a concrete floor, adequate window lights provided, the minimum being at least one square foot of light per stanchion. A tight ceiling to prevent chaff dust, etc., from seeping down, is a standard requirement. A milk house with some form of a milk cooler is also a necessity so that the milk can be promptly cooled to a low temperature thereby retarding bacterial action. We recommend the use of a covered pail, that is, a pail that has a solid cover on top, the opening being only about one third that of an ordinary pail. This prevents dirt or other foreign matter from falling into the pail during the milking process. A cotton pad strainer is required by law. By using this strainer the washing of various kinds of cloths, which by the way, was never done very thoroughly on the majority of dairy farms, is eliminated. A clean cotton pad which is used only once and then discarded, now is used in place of cloths.

If the milk dealer is selling very much milk he must have a steam boiler. This provides plenty of hot water and steam for washing all dairy equipment and bottles and finally the sterilization of same by hot water, steam or by chlorine.

There are many precautions that we continually advocate on every farm where milk is produced for direct consumption, such as thoroughly cleaning the udder of the cow before milking, washing of hands before starting to milk and the prompt removal of each pail of milk to the milk house in order to avoid absorption of stable odors, dust, etc.

Having given you a rather brief outline of some of the general requirements you might be interested to know that this district health department frequently picks up samples of bottled milk from the delivery trucks of the dealers in the various towns and cities for chemical and bacteriological analysis. There being no state laboratory in this territory the samples are taken direct to the state laboratory situated at Grand Rapids. The samples we secure are iced and kept cold on the way to the laboratory, otherwise the results would not be accurate. At the laboratory various tests are made among them being a bacterial count, a butter fat test, a test for sediment, etc. Quite frequently we also take an empty washed milk bottle which is secured at the dairy and by certain laboratory tests it can be determined if the bottle has been properly washed and sterilized.

SMELT FOUND VALUABLE AS FISH FORAGE

With the information that various Great Lakes fishes seem to be feeding extensively on smelt, fisheries authorities here are beginning to wonder if the smelt may not assume greater scientific importance as a food fish for commercial varieties.

It has been known for some time that the wall-eyed pike, as well as lake trout will gorge on smelt, but new reports indicate that the smelt are eaten by other species as well.

While it is very likely that the smelt may constitute a valuable forage for commercial fish, it is still not definitely known whether the smelt will tend to reduce or limit commercial varieties by eating their eggs and young.—Isabella Co. Times-News, Mt. Pleasant.

Forecasting Not Exact Science

Forecasting never has and never will be an exact science, according to a weather bureau expert. That is because we must deal with air which cannot be tied down. The sun, lakes, mountains, and deserts are factors which affect air and determine weather conditions. The men who make the forecasts are those with years of training, which includes the making of practice forecasts for states and districts. These men are graded on this work and the most accurate—those who top the list—are given assignments as assistant observers. They move up on the death or retirement of the principal observers.

DEPT. OF STATE

STATE NEWS BULLETIN

Changes Offered For Constitution

With the deadline for submission of initiative petitions proposing amendments to the state constitution still a month and a half away, six proposals have thus far been approved as to form of petition in the office of the Secretary of State.

No petitions have been filed as yet; the signatures of 125,893 voters, or one-tenth the total number voting for all candidates for governor in 1934, will be required in order that any initiative proposal be placed before voters at the general election next Nov. 3. The deadline for submission of signed petitions is set by the state constitution in Article 17, Section 2, providing that such petitions be submitted at least four months prior to the election.

In addition to any proposals which may be placed on the ballot by initiative petition, two originating in the 1935 legislature will be offered to the voters. These would provide that: one, police might offer as evidence any weapon seized near a residence, without a search warrant; and two, home rule and tax limitations for counties.

Most recently approved as to form of initiative petitions is one which would eliminate the ad valorem tax on real and personal property; and provide for a tax on the income of property.

The other five would, in brief, provide:

1. For a single body legislature and civil service in state and county governments, and other changes.
2. Exemption from the State's retail sales tax of the sale of many staple foods.
3. That owners of other than residential property assessed at $50,000 or less, would be compelled to furnish a stipulated amount of employment.
4. For the legalizing of horse race betting in private clubs.
5. For a one-man state liquor control commission for the collection of state taxes, placing liquor sales in private hands.

Wax comes from the carnauba palm of Brazil. Its leaves furnish most of the high grade commercial wax and polish.

WHAT IS THE SIGNIFICANCE OF HEART MURMURS?

There are two kinds of heart murmurs: One kind is caused by organic disease of the heart, usually valvular leakage; the other is functional and has no significance.

The two often are confused, or, because of lack of experience or knowledge on the part of the observer, both are looked upon as potentially serious. This is a grave sin, because many doctor-made heart diseases are extant. When a person is told that he has a heart murmur and other convincing evidence of heart disease is not demonstrated, he should, in justice to his own peace of mind, consult an expert. Erase any erroneous impression in respect to your heart at once! Do not harbor it! During the World War certificate after certificate alleging heart disease because of a murmur was presented by registrants. Thousands of men with such certificates were given Class A service and they "went over the top"! The cases were carefully examined by Appeal Boards and after the innocent nature of the murmur was proven the certificates were disregarded.

A murmur is due to an alteration in the blood current through the valves of the heart—the sound can be produced artificially by pinching a rubber hose through which water is running. Temporary heart murmurs appear often during any acute illness due to the general state of the body during weakness and fever—and they disappear again after the health and vitality are re-established.

Physicians make use of the presence of a murmur to define the character and cause of heart disease, rather than to establish the diagnosis. A functionally abnormal sound may be present in a normal organ and completely absent in a diseased organ. Only two classes of people have fear of murmurs—those who are worried about the possibility of heart disease and the medical student whose examination may involve embarrassing questions concerning their origin.

ADLERIKA

Mac & Gidley, Druggists.

what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

BEVERLY HILLS, CALIF.

The more I ponder on Italy's sacrifices in Ethiopia, as balanced against what she gains, the more I'm reminded of the old story of the Confederate who was released from a northern prison camp after the surrender. Skeleton-thin from jail fever and debility, he started on tottery legs for the Ohio river, determined to die on southern soil.

One night this poor rack-o-bones crept into a haymow. Next morning, early, the hired man heard suspicious sounds in the loft and ran for reinforcements. Presently, the ex-captive's refuge was surrounded by stalwart, armed men. The farmer's six-foot son leveled a cocked musket.

"Come out of that, whoever you be," he bellowed. "Consume your hide, we got you."

The southerner raised a white face. "Yas," he said, wanly, "and one h-l of a git you got."

His Next Movie.

WE'RE starting a new picture, and I am teamed up with Slim Summerville, 6 feet 6 of pure comedy, and little Jane Withers—for her age, the greatest scene-stealer in the business. It's as though Little Boy Blue were sandwiched in between Jesse James and Calamity Jane. Well, as I go down for the third time I'll still be gurgling feebly, so give me credit, please, as an earnest gurgler.

They call our picture "Public Nuisance Number 1," but a movie is like an Indian—starts out with a name and winds up with anyone of a half-dozen. I once knew a Blackfoot who was first one thing, then another, and the best he could do for himself in his old age was to be known as Chief Many Tail Feathers Going Over the Hill.

Pranks of Zioncheck.

THE papers seemed so barren—not a single front page story about Representative Zioncheck, Washington's No. 1 Boy Scout. Life, indeed, is empty on a day whose low descending sun sees no gay deed done, no headline won by the nation's official problem child.

He may have started off at the foot of the ladder, alphabetically speaking, but his startled constituents can't complain that the gallant lad stayed there. Either he's getting pinched or getting jailed or getting married or getting his pen in hand to tell the President how to run the country, or getting ready to polish off some fellow-statesman of the house, or just getting about.

And hasn't he put the throbbing pulse into the Congressional Record? It reads now sometimes as the old Police Gazette used to.

Rules for Olympics.

AS I understand it—and somebody correct me, please, if I'm wrong—the rules for the forthcoming Olympic Games in Berlin have been so revised that it will be quite all right for any of our Jewish athletes to take part—just so they don't win.

I'm wondering, thought, about what may happen when the American team turns up over there with a whole batch of negro foot-racers in the outfit. It's going to be awfully hard to convince a Prussian crowd that they're merely medium-to-well-done Nordic-Caucasian stock browned in the pan, so to speak.

It so happens that our fastest runners are all colored boys. Perhaps 'tis just as well. They may have to keep right on running.

Improvement in Influenza.

IN RESPONSE to large numbers who wrote or wired, I would state that either I'm getting over my influenza, or maybe I'm just getting used to it. Its latest whimsical notion was to settle in both ears, and now should it thunder, a rare occurrence out there, in order or me to get the benefit of the phenomenon, I'll have to thunder again—and louder. However, being temporarily deaf has its advantages: I don't hear the dull things the other people say, but can still enjoy the bright things I say myself.

As will be noted, I'm back from Palm Springs, where I cooked in the desert sunshine until all I needed to do before being served was to drape a sprig of watercress across my brow and thicken the gravy with a little brown flour. Driving in, I kept tying up the traffic; so many motorists mistook my face for a stop signal.

Should I relapse I'm going to try to throw myself into the epidemic. That's a horse disease, but I've been as sick as a horse and had to be as strong as a horse to live through it—and, anyhow, I know a good horse doctor.

FREDERIC SCHOOL

(Too late for last week)

Frederic Rural Agricultural High School graduates a class of six on May 29. This is the first class since their consolidation with Maple Forest Township schools and being made a Rural Agricultural school.

The graduates are Nelson Vollmer, Elmo Nephew, Edna Small, Lewis Stillwagon, Lewis Murphy, and Louise Vilmer.

Reverend Flory with a choir from Grayling will give the Baccalaureate service to the graduates at eight p. m., Sunday, May 24, at the Methodist church of Frederic.

Commencement and Class night have been combined and will be held at the School gymnasium Thursday, May 28, at eight o'clock p. m. Each graduate will take part in the program and president H. M. Crooks of Alma College will give the commencement address. Superintendent Lewis, Principal Beach, and Miss Brooks will all return for next year and Miss Mary Catherine Craig, a graduate of Alma College will be added to the High school staff. Miss Craig will have charge of English and History.

A moving picture "The Three Keys," was put on in Frederic gymnasium Monday, May 11. Mr. Paul Aikens of Elmira ran the show.

All at the Junior Prom Friday night reported having a good time. The gym was nicely decorated to give an effect of a summer evening sky having a blue ceiling and dotted with stars. A moon could be seen shining through at times also. The Grand March was led by Charles Horton, president of the Junior class, with Edna Small as his partner. They were followed by Nelson Vollmer, president of the Senior class, with Oral Burke, as his partner. They were followed by about forty in a line filled with color. The Juniors wish to thank all who helped make it a success and especially the orchestra for their fine program of dances.

We tried to have an interschool baseball game Tuesday afternoon but it rained just after we got it started so we had to come in and resume our classes.

AN APPLE A DAY

If there is any truth in the old adage, "an apple a day keeps the doctor away," Michigan relief clients are going to be a healthy lot this summer. They have consumed 553,000 pounds of the fruit, distributed by the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation, within the past three months. Although food ranging from dried beans to roast beef has been distributed, the relief clients prefer apples. Prunes are a close second.

Life of Honey Bees

The majority of bees, which are known as workers, are thought to live from one to nine months. The life of the queen bee is rarely more than three years.

because it's the only complete low-priced car

People today want a car that's absolutely safe. And the 1936 Chevrolet is the safest car that money can buy, for it's the only low-priced car with New Perfected Hydraulic Brakes.

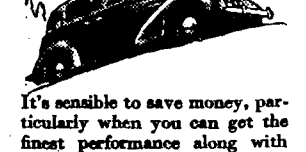

Wise buyers also want complete overhead protection . . . a Solid Steel one-piece Turret Top . . . the strongest top made. This feature also is exclusive to Chevrolet in the lower price range.

And when you're riding, you naturally want the smoothest and most comfortable ride known. That means the Knee-Action Gliding Ride*. Only Chevrolet brings it to you at low cost.

Genuine Fisher No Draft Ventilation is another comfort and safety feature which is found only on this one low-priced car. It scoops in breezes on warm days, and prevents drafts on cold days.

It's sensible to save money, particularly when you can get the finest performance along with the saving. Chevrolet's High-Compression Valve-in-Head Engine—exclusive to Chevrolet in its price range—gives unequalled performance with economy.

Drivers prefer it for still another reason . . . Shockproof Steering* . . . a feature which makes driving effortless. Follow America's judgment—buy a new 1936 Chevrolet—the only complete low-priced car!

10th Dist. Republi- can Rally May 25th

AT BAY CITY, MANY NOT-ABLES TO BE PRESENT.

With over 100 committee members working at top speed to complete plans for the entertainment of the Tenth Congressional District Republicans at Bay City on May 24th, interest in the affair continues to mount and indications point to a large attendance and the most enthusiastic political rally of years in this section of the state.

The rally will be in the nature of a dinner and dance at the Scottish Rite cathedral in Bay City, beginning at 6:30 p. m. with a long list of notables prominent in party and state circles on hand to join in the festivities with the party faithfuls. Governor Fitzgerald, National Committeewoman Mrs. Jacob Steketee, National Committeeman James E.
Davidson, Secretary of State Atwood, Auditor General John J.
O'Hara, Howard C. Lawrence,
state central committee chairman, and many others will be present, it has been announced by M. Seth Babcock, general chairman of the party.

Chief speaker for the evening
will be Claris Adams, of Detroit, former campaign manager for Senator and Postmaster General
Harry S. New, of Indiana. Mr.
Adams, who has been a Michigan resident for the past few years, is now president of the Michigan Federation of Republican Clubs. He is famous as a political organizer and orator.

The program of speeches will come to a close about 10 p. m.
and will be followed by a dance
with a well known orchestra.

The events of the day are sponsored jointly by the county committees, Young Republican clubs, Women's organizations and Servicemen's Leagues in the various counties of the Tenth District,
and also the Michigan Federation of Republican clubs.

Young Republican clubs of the district will meet in the afternoon at 2:30 at the Wenonah Hotel for the purpose of selecting a permanent group of district officers and four members on the State Board of Control.

As the demand for tickets is very heavy all persons interested in attending the dinner and dance are urged to contact their county chairman at once as the supply of tickets is limited and has been pro rated to each county. The price of both dinner and dance is $1.00 a person.

STATE AUTHORIZES FUND FOR ISLE ROYALE

To supplement the fund set aside by the federal government for land-acquisition on Isle Royale, the State Administrative Board has authorized $100,000 to assure complete federal ownership and hasten the administration of the island as a national park.

"The United States government will not assume administration and development of Isle Royale until all of the 133,587 acres in fee-simple title have been deeded and accepted," said Harry F.
Harper of Lansing, secretary of the Michigan Isle Royale National Park Commission.

"Last year it was anticipated
by the Commission that the fund set aside at Washington would not be sufficient to buy all the land on Isle Royale. It was realized that unless additional funds were made available at once from some source, Michigan might have to wait a year or several years before complete ownership of the island could be acquired by the United States.
The Administrative Board was asked to release $100,000 and since that has been done it is felt that Isle Royale will officially become a national park as soon as all formalities have been completed."

The enormous amount of legal work involved in land acquisition, negotiations for options and preparing abstracts of title is necessarily time-consuming. Abstracts of title to each description optioned, must be examined in the office of the solicitor general, United States Department of the Interior.

"Some of these abstracts are voluminous," Mr. Harper said.
"One recently submitted to the solicitor general, weighed no less than nine pounds and must undergo meticulous and painstaking examination before it is approved."

To date there have been no actual payments, although it is expected that since many options
have been approved at Washington and deeds examined, payments of considerations will start presently.

Then there was the Oregon
farmer who said the wind blew all but the tail feathers off his chickens, and who had to dress them in overalls before they were fit to appear in public.

The cutting of green, standing timber or removal of any timber from state-owned land is pun-

Among the Clerks

Ted Wheeler seems to be running opposition to Dewey Palmer, Albert Rehkopf, and other famous plumbers and has at last succeeded in cutting at least one notch in his plunger—he "fixed"
the sink at Shoppenagons Inn.

Jim Bugby has secured a position at the Hanson Cafe, where he is fulfilling the duties of chief pastry cook and dishwasher. Although he is an expert along that line, Jim is afraid he will be given what is commonly known as "the air."

Now that spring is surely here
"Mouse" Hoesli has a chance to really get out with the other little boys and shoot mugs without any gloves on. One day I noticed that he was showing some boys the art of tricycle riding too. And is that fella a whiz on a scooter!

Art May and George VanPatten
were treated to a sightseeing
tour in Jim Post's new free
wheeler, over the week end,
when the lads made whoopee at Pinconning, Bay City, and points south. George says he had a powerful hard time getting the boys away from those city sirens.

Jim Bugby, of the H. C., enjoyed a pleasant visit Friday evening from his Uncle Jake, of the U. S. A., who visits his favorite nephew during the spring of each year. When he arrives
he immediately does his annual once over in the basement,
partakes of a hefty meal or two,
and leaves on the Side Car Pullman of the 2:15. Although, Uncle Jake is no blood relation of Jim's, after seeing him I can't bring to see Aunt Julia,
who is very "comfortable looking" and tips the scales at 240!

George VanPatten pinch-hit
for Pug LaGrow, Saturday evening, at the Hanson Cafe, and so far there are no known casualties. He's already sent away for his cook's emblem.

as possible to Pug LaGrow, of the H. C. better known as Ole Pappy, as he desires to patch

be of good material as last strip lasted only one evening!

Dick Lewis, of Carl's Barber Shop, did heavy duty over the week end when he went out collecting for Schweitzer & Wilson. Before starting out on this venture, Dick wisely shaved off
his mustache and, thus disguised,
was able to "get by" at inaccessible places.

Reggie Sheehy did not have to work at the Flooring mill, Saturday, and was able to escort Miss Pugby to her duties at the Hanson Cafe! Eva Mae says, "Anyway, that was some picnic, Sunday!"

According to all reports, three clerks indulged in a bit of fishing recently and two of them managed to keep from falling in.

GOV. SPEAKS TO MASSA- CHUSETTS WOMEN

Governor Frank D. Fitzgerald addressed the Women's Republican club of Massachusetts on Wednesday of this week. In his 30-minute talk he discussed the problems involved in balancing the state budget and described the way it had been done in Michigan. He then took up the larger issues.

The governor declared that the record alone would determine whether he had been a good or bad governor and that the same would apply to the national administration. He said that the weary millions of unemployed who still tread our streets speak of the situation in the strongest terms. He also pointed to the greatest national debt in our history and to the fact that confidence has not been restored. This he said is the record of the party in power.

"The people," said the governor, "have learned that they cannot fish prosperity from the bottom of a pork barrel." He went on to say, "The present political situation in the country today is tailored to order for the Republican party. That is my frank opinion. The party cannot fail and it will not fail if the men and women who guide its destiny will deal in cold bare facts."

The governor ringingly declared that a new regime was needed in which the Henry Fords and not the Rex Tugwells should have their innings. The Republican platform could be simple,
only a few clear statements of policy which should be governed by policy which should be governed by hard common sense and not theories.

TRUCK BURNS

According to Glenn Marsh of Roscommon, a Ford truck owned by Archie Jorgenson, in which the tow were riding, caught fire and burned up. Marsh says that they had just had the gas tank filled to overflowing and they hadn't gone far before the tank, which was located under the seat, burst into flames. The men got out but lost their hats and coats. According to Marsh the cover had been left off the gas tank and the gasoline evidently was set on fire by the exhaust.
The truck was destroyed.

CUMMINGS TO TRY FOR NEW ECONOMY RECORD

Wild Bill Cummings, who on May 30 will be driving a race car around the Indianapolis track to seek a 500-mile speed record,
has undertaken a different sort of drive—to set a 2600-mile economy record. The test is being conducted under the official sanction (No. 3402) of the contest
board of the American Automobile Association, to determine the actual costs of transporting a 15-ton pay load on a semi-trailer towed by a Chevrolet 14-ton truck, specially equipped with a Thornton dual-ratio four-real-wheel drive. Load, trailer and truck together weigh 20 tons.

Cummings is accompanied by Harold Baxter, official observer
of the A.A.A., who will certify to the costs of operation.

A unique feature of the test is that costs will be computed and announced at each of the scheduled stops on the 2600-mile trip, which will include twenty principal cities of northern and eastern states.

Cummings began the run Monday, April 20, leaving the General Motors Building, Detroit. At each stop, the vehicle will be exhibited in the street at Cummings' hotel headquarters.

The 15-ton payload consists of specially formed blocks of concrete, securely bolted down to the trailed platform, and tied together by a heavy bar of steel running the whole length of the load. Virtually the entire weight of the load and the trailer is carried on the four dual rear wheels of the truck and the four dual rear wheels of the trailer.

Thus, 16 heavy duty pneumatic
tires support the weight.

Two standard Chevrolet rear axles form the drive, power being delivered to both through a transfer case that distributes the power equally to the two axles.
The drive is rated to develop 7,700 pounds of tractive effort, giving it the ability to handle 22-ton gross load over a 19 per cent
grade.
